

Mirbek Bekboliev

Project Manager, buildingSMART Germany

Mirbek Bekboliev M.Sc. is an accredited building physics engineer, who has 10+ years professional experience both in sustainability sector and prefabricated construction. Throughout his career he has dealt with Sustainable Building Design combining it with the BIM Consultancy, focusing on LEED and Passivhaus, Building Energy Modeling, Lighting Design as well as Blower Door Testing along with Thermography Imaging. Since 2017 he is a Technical Project Manager at the buildingSMART Germany and since 2019 is a bSI SCTE Member, by taking a role of the Technical Lead of buildingSMART International (bSI) Building Room Steering Committee. In addition an active Member of various Standardisation Institutions like DIN, VDI and constantly involved in developing openBIM Standards within bSI. He has been awarded with various prizes at International design competitions that focused on BIM, Green Building (Sustainability) and Lighting Design topics. He is also an active EU Climate Pact Ambassador and also serves as a volunteer Fire Fighter.

